

Invitation

The Joanna Briggs Foundation Chairman Philip Pledge invites you to:
Adelaide's premier business lunch for 2017 with special guest speakers

The Hon Julie Bishop MP, Minister for Foreign Affairs and Senator The Hon Simon Birmingham, Minister for Education and Training

Hon Julie Bishop

With global events dominating the headlines, the management of Australia's Foreign Affairs portfolio has never been more complex or consuming. In her role as Foreign Minister, Julie Bishop has been at the forefront of discussions on the international stage.

As Senator for South Australia, Simon Birmingham has been a major voice for our state in Canberra for a decade, most recently driving reform in education and training.

You are invited to join Adelaide's business leaders on Friday 6th October, 2017, at the world-renowned Adelaide Oval to hear from these key Federal ministers as they discuss issues of state, national and global significance.

Your attendance will make a difference to the lives of people living in developing countries and Australia's Indigenous communities. Money raised from the event will support the work of the Joanna Briggs Institute – another South Australian success story – in assisting disadvantaged communities in creating sustainable health care outcomes.

Hon Simon Birmingham

Date: Friday 6 October 2017
Time: 12.30pm
Venue: Ian McLachlan Room, Adelaide Oval
Cost: $185 p/p or table of ten - $1,850
(includes a two course lunch and superb Wirra Wirra wines)
